My journey into the future

My name is Antonio and I live in small town in the state of Washington in the USA. It is a really quiet town in the middle of nowhere. One day, I was walking in the forest and I heard strange noises coming from somewhere, I was really scared. Then, I heard a gun and I fell.

I woke up exactly in the same place, I ran to my house and then I found a huge city. I walked into the city and there were flying cars and tall buildings full of trees. People were speaking a weird language, also robots were everywhere. I didn´t know what was going on. I went back to the place I had woken up and there I found a secret abandoned lab. I tried to go in but the language was strange. I walked into the city and I asked where I was… nobody understood me. Then I saw a giant ship that said POLICE. I went in. I asked where I was. The police officers called a man and he talked to me. I was in the year 3428! He asked me what my name was and I said it to him, then, he searched on a computer and he said I had been "erased". Of course I didn´t understand. I told them about the lab and they came with me. They opened the door and they found the gun that was used to erase me. It looks like it had failed and I was alive. But why me? Revealing the secret of what was inside the lab was too dangerous for these people, so this secret society did this to me. Finally, they found a time machine in there, so I used it.

I woke up again and I ran to get home, I didn´t tell anything to no one because I know they are still watching me.
